

Democrats Turn Back Opponents

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democrat won the Kentucky governorship Tuesday night, turning back the most serious GOP challenge in two decades, while in Mississippi's unprecedented governorship fight an anti-Kennedy Democrat smashed the bid of an anti-Kennedy Republican.

In racially restive Philadelphia, a Democratic nominee strongly backed by President Kennedy won a key mayoralty race.

Edward T. Breathitt Jr. clinched the Kentucky governorship early against Louie B. Nunn, Republican, who had assailed the Kennedy administration and criticized a state order barring racial discrimination in businesses licensed by the state.

Breathitt's margin was smaller than expected and much less than Gov. Bert Combs, Democrat, who could not succeed himself, rolled up four years ago.

With 2,657 of 2,982 precincts tallied the count stood: Breathitt

Albany, N.Y. Democrats Are Stunned

COHOES, N.Y. (AP) — The defeated mayor of this Albany County city watched his Democratic administration fall in a stunning election upset and promptly declared a state of emergency.

Mayor Andrew H. Santspreed ordered extra police into the streets early today because of what he said was widespread violence.

Police later described the incident as "just a little celebration."

Santspreed had told reporters, "The citizens are going crazy. They're ripping convertible tops, throwing bottles through windows and ripping down the American flags."

Dr. James E. McDonald, who unseated Santspreed, said he had no knowledge of any violence. Independent candidates swept the Democrats from a position of municipal control they had held for 30 years.

Dry Weather Stalls Elevators

MEMPHIS (AP) — An oddity of the state's prolonged drought is causing grain elevator operations at Memphis to grind to a standstill.

Dry weather brought ideal harvest conditions and the elevators are chock full of beans. But the rain-starved Mississippi River is running shallow, curtailing normal barge traffic.

Hal Davis, manager of the Southern Elevator Terminal Co. said, "We're at a complete standstill. We need to move almost 400,000 bushels of corn out of Memphis in the next 20 days, but we have no indication we can."

Democrat Is Named in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Franciscans turned out in force despite drizzling rain Tuesday and elected a Democrat as the city's mayor for the first time in 55 years.

Nearly complete returns showed 12-year Congressman John F. Shelley ahead of his closest rival, Republican Supervisor Harold Dobbs by 114,790 to 88,954. Almost 75 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots.

Shelley, who is 58, will be the first Democrat to enter City Hall since Edward R. Taylor was appointed mayor following the ouster of Eugene E. Schmidt during a period of graft prosecution. Taylor was re-elected in 1908.

Though the mayor's post is nonpartisan, this campaign had marked political overtones. Shelley received the endorsement of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown and considerable support from party rank and file workers.

Dobbs had the endorsement of San Francisco's three major newspapers and a word of "confidence" from outgoing Mayor George Christopher, a Republican barred by charter from succeeding himself a second time.

General admission tickets are $1.50. Anyone interested in buying a ticket or donating one of the above amounts and receiving season tickets please call Mr. or Mrs. Ken Daniels or Mrs. Chris Petre.

Everyone at Times Feels So Mixed Up He Feels He Must Be Off of His Rocker

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell if you're normal? There is great interest in mental health today in a world so confused and confusing that everyone at times feels so mixed-up he must be off his rocker.

The chaos is compounded by the amateur prescribers, who feel that having read 10 pages of Sigmund Freud entitles them to turn every cocktail party into a session of group therapy. This is the kind of person who used to have a cure for the common cold that never worked. Now he feels entitled to dip his clammy hands into your mind and play marbles with your phobias and fears, or separate your id from your idiosyncrasies.

Perhaps such a person has you convinced you are hopelessly neurotic.

But are you really?

We have prepared a small guide for the mentally perplexed that may be of help to you. Ask yourself the following questions.

Witness Says Thompson Did Not Want Wife to Know of Insurance on Her Life

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — T. Eugene Thompson didn't want his wife Carol to know how much insurance he was taking out on her life, an insurance agent told jurors trying Thompson on a charge of killing her.

Floyd Peterson of St. Paul, the agent, testified Tuesday he sold policies for $200,000 each on the lives of Thompson and his wife and had to go to the Thompson home to get Mrs. Thompson's signature.

Peterson said Mrs. Thompson appeared "surprised to see me" when he told her he was an insurance man sent out by her husband.

Prosecutor William Randall Randall asked if Peterson discussed the amount of the policy with Mrs. Thompson.

"I avoided that," replied the witness, "because Mr. Thompson said he did not want his wife to know the amount of the insurance."

Peterson said he wrote the policies in April 1962. Mrs. Thompson was fatally bludgeoned and knifed by a man who invaded the couple's fashionable St. Paul home last March 6.

Randall said the state would prove it was a killing for hire to free Thompson to marry "the other woman," still unidentified at the trial, and to collect the $1,055,000 insurance he had taken out on the life of the mother of his four children.

Thompson and two other men have been charged with first-degree murder. The other two are awaiting trial.

Mayors Lose Jobs in Two State Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mayors lost their jobs at Harrison, Rogers and Mena in Tuesday's general election, but by and large the urban electorate like the heads of its city governments.

Mayor Monroe Drse of Mena lost to Paul Sanders, 521 to 452. W. I. Green was third with 412.

At Hot Springs, Mayor Dan Wolf won re-election over challenger Waldo Pool, 4,386 to 1,713. Mena approved an annexation of 140 acres northwest of the city by a vote of 989 to 323, but turned down a proposal to build a housing unit for the elderly, 599 to 752.

The Rev. Daniel M. Bowman, a Negro, ran third in a race for alderman at Hot Springs. Sam Jones won the race, 2,409 to 1,178 for Hubert Holland and 1,146 for Bowman.

Hot Springs voters approved 1,684 to 1,602 a Sunday closing law which clarifies an existing ordinance.

At Hot Springs, Mayor Dan Wolf won re-election over challenger Waldo Pool, 4,708 to 1,849. Jones won the race, 2,644 to 2,336 for Hubert Holland and 1,183 for Bowman.

Hot Springs approved 2,627 to 2,376 a Sunday closing ordinance which forbids sale of all but necessary items on Sunday.

Van Buren County voters approved 933 to 301 a five-mill tax for a $160,000 bond issue to help finance construction of a $495,000 county nursing home.

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev said today Soviet plans to buy American wheat may be canceled.

"...It may well happen that we will let you eat your own grain," Khrushchev told a group of American businessmen.

"I do have a feeling one might not come to an agreement on the grain deal."

"I just received some information on the progress of the talks there (in the United States) and we have sent instructions to our representatives at the talks to say that if the Americans go on insisting on sale of grain and discriminatory terms then our delegation will break off the talks and will leave."

Dutchess Co. Has Gone Democratic

POUGKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Dutchess County, so solidly Republican that its most famous resident, Franklin D. Roosevelt, couldn't carry it in a presidential election, has gone Democratic.

Democrats won control of the County Board of Supervisors for the first time in 50 years Tuesday. Democrats also took control of the Poughkeepsie City Council for the first time in 33 years.

Poughkeepsie, the county seat, also failed to give Republican mayoral candidate Gleason Lovelace a majority vote in any of the 26 districts. Democratic Mayor Victor Waryas won 7,772 to 3,895.

In Newburgh, another Hudson River Valley community, Democrats gained control for the first time in the city's modern history.

Newburgh Democrats, who campaigned against a Republican-backed attempt to crack down on welfare expenditures, won the mayor's office and a 3-2 edge in the City Council.

Republicans had dominated the council 4-1.

Controversy Over Baptist Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Baptist State Convention's proposal to build the state's first private mental health unit resulted in a mild controversy over separation of church and state Tuesday.

The issue was to be settled today by secret vote.

The proposal is to form a private corporation to construct the center as an addition to the Arkansas Baptist Hospital at a cost of $1.5 million to $2 million.

The controversy is over acceptance of federal funds under the Hill Burton hospital act. Baptists are devoted to separation of church and state and do not accept direct federal aid.

Dr. Walter L. Johnson, pastor of the University Baptist Church of Fayetteville, told the convention Tuesday that using a private corporation to build the facility would be subterfuge and damage the Baptist image.

Rev. W. O. Vaught Jr. pastor of Little Rock Immanuel Baptist Church, which is host for the convention, said the center should be built with tithes and offerings and not from tax funds.

Rev. Hugh Cantrell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stephens, said the convention Tuesday was at a point no different than four years ago when it authorized the Baptist hospital to enter into an agreement with North Little Rock for operation of the North Little Rock Memorial Hospital, which was built with funds from a bond issue and from federal aid.

Dr. Robert Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Pine Bluff, said the convention did not have funds to support a hospital enlargement program. He said the convention could not compete with other hospitals without outside financial support and that the real issue was whether the organization was to stay in the hospital business.

Washington Seat of State Government

Governor Orval E. Faubus will bring at least two members of his staff with him today to Washington where he will conduct some business in observance of the 100th year since the Capitol was located there.

The Governor and other constitutional officers will be on hand. Accompanying the Governor will be C. R. Thornbrough, his executive secretary and Mrs. Della Lu Tyson, his secretary. Some appointments will be made and mail answered at the old Confederate Capitol. The Governor will also greet visitors during a brief stay at the building.

Other state officials who will attend are Secretary of State Kelly Bryant and Mrs. Bryant; Attorney General Bruce Bennett and members of his staff; Land Commissioner Sam Jones and State Treasurer Nancy J. Hall. Several representatives and senators from the area will be on hand.

The Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation is in charge of the program which will be highlighted with a $25-a-plate dinner tonight. All money from the dinner will go to the Foundation treasury.

The Governor's party is scheduled to arrive at 2:30 p.m. and will spend a couple of hours in the Old Capitol. Visitors will be given a chance to see the Old Tavern, the Blacksmith Shop where the famous Bowie Knife was made, the old cemetery and Museum. The State Dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Mine Rescue Remains a Day Away

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — A miner waited today to make a perilous trip about 200 feet below ground to connect a rescue shaft with a tunnel in a flooded mine where 11 men have been trapped for 13 days. But rescue remained at least a day away.

Rescuers first hoped to lower tools to the entombed men and have them dig a horizontal tunnel to the rescue shaft.

They announced their new plan after the shaft through which the tools were to be lowered missed its target by five feet. Now a miner from the surface, as yet unnamed, will descend the rescue shaft as soon as it is finished to dig into the chamber.

The trapped men have been receiving clothing and food since Sunday through a shaft too narrow to send tools. Their food has to be mashed to fit into a capsule an inch in diameter that moves up and down the shaft like an elevator.

Officials estimated at noon it would take at least another 20 hours to get the men out.

Drilling resumed early today after crews finished lining the rescue shaft with cement.

Rescuers, in touch with the men by telephone, said they are calm. A doctor reported their condition is good.

A rescuer also descended last Friday when three other men were brought out of another part of the mine, flooded Oct. 24 when a nearby dam broke.

Twenty-nine miners are missing and presumed dead.

Chances for Aid Bill Seem Slim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D - Ark., said Tuesday the chances of passing the compromise $3,317,365,000 foreign aid bill are "very dim" because opponents are employing tactics of obstruction and delay.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D - Ore., leads the fight against the bill. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said 63 amendments have now been offered to the embattled measure. "You know what the power of obstruction and delay is," he commented.

The Senate is in its second week of debate on the controversial measure.

Negro Is Shot to Death at Washington

A 23-year-old Washington Negro listed as Arless Huntley, was shot to death about 6:30 p.m. yesterday in the front yard of Cecil Fincher in Washington. Officials are holding Fincher in jail.

Deputy Sheriff Herbert Griffin said Fincher told officers that Huntley came into his yard talking loud and creating a disturbance. He said he ran Huntley off but he came back within a few minutes. Fincher told officers he pulled a 44 cal. pistol when Huntley wouldn't leave attempted to hit him across the head. Fincher said the pistol discharged accidentally and the bullet killed Huntley instantly, striking him in the head. Fincher said he didn't even know Huntley.

Officers investigating include Deputy Griffin, Lt. Milton Mosier and Patrolman W. T. Brewster of the State Police.

Deputy Griffin said Fincher is in Hempstead County Jail pending completion of the investigation.

Says Schools Could Get $77 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas schools could get $77 million a year if a proposal for allocating them 55 per cent of the state's general revenues is adopted, the state comptroller's office said today.

Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, proposed the 55 per cent figure last week.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Monday he was against pinning down school allocations at 55 per cent of revenues because the state might be able to do better through other systems.

The comptroller's office said that, at the end of this biennium, revenues probably will reach $127,250,000. The public schools would get $63 million under the present allocation of 49.51 per cent of tax money to schools.

Fifty-five per cent of the total revenues would be $69,892,000. But state revenues are expected to increase to some $140 million by 1966-67, and 55 per cent of that would be $77 million.

The comptroller's office said local assessed valuation is more than $1.5 billion and schools are getting $55 million of that local money.

Capitalists Keep Nikita Waiting

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev cooled his heels for eight minutes in the Kremlin today waiting for a group of 20 U.S. capitalists.

The delegation of businessmen, which includes G. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, was supposed to be in Khrushchev's Kremlin office at 11 a.m. but was delayed, no reason was given.

Khrushchev paced up and down while he waited but showed no sign of irritation. He smiled happily when the Americans arrived and shook hands with each man.

The Americans, members of a European tour sponsored by Time Inc., arrived Tuesday night by chartered plane. They will attend the Red Square parade Thursday honoring the anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution.

U.S. Ahead in Nuclear Warheads

LONDON (AP) — The United States will have nearly five times as many intercontinental ballistic missiles ready to deliver nuclear warheads as the Soviets by the end of this year, says the Institute for Strategic Studies.

The institute, an authoritative non-governmental agency whose backers include the Ford and Rockefeller foundations, said U.S. ICBM strength will reach 475 rockets against an armory of about 100 similar Soviet missiles.

In a defense survey made public today, the institute said the Soviets are continuing their slow buildup of intercontinental ballistic missiles and added: "Soviet policy still lays stress on high-yield warheads for the smaller number of missiles available."

The institute said a Soviet Polaris-type missile that can be fired from a submerged submarine "must be treated with caution."

It added, however, the Russians have a 400-mile rocket that can be fired from a surfaced submarine. It said about 90 such submarines are in service and with 12 missile-firing destroyers.

West Doubts Confirmed by Convoy Deal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western doubts about the "spirit of Moscow" were heightened today by the latest Soviet harassment of an American convoy to Berlin and a new Communist attack on the West German government.

The latest onslaught against the Bonn regime came in the face of a British warning that Russian interference with Berlin convoys might force the West to take a second look at the Soviet theme of amity.

There was no direct Communist reply to the blunt warning by British Minister of State Peter Thomas in the Assembly's Political Committee.

But speakers from Bulgaria, Ukraine and Mongolia who followed him in the disarmament debate denounced plans to have West Germany participate in the U.S.-proposed multinational nuclear force.

In what appeared a reference to the convoy dispute, Ukrainian Foreign Minister L. F. Palamarchuk said a nonaggression pact between NATO and Warsaw Powers would help resolve "the problem of Berlin."

Both Britain and the United States have taken the floor to protest against the running attack on West Germany which contrasts sharply with the Soviet policy of harmony on East-West issues.

Stockholders to Have Best Year Yet

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — This is going to be the best year yet for the pocketbooks of the nation's stockholders.

Dollar totals of dividend payments, already well ahead of last year, are sure to hit a new record as the year end outlays sweeten the take.

And lucky holders of favored issues that have shot up on the stock exchanges will have sizable capital gains if they cash in, or paper profits if they hold on.

Corporate earnings seem likely to set a record high. They're running well ahead of last year and the present quarter prospects are good. Even profit margins, pinched since 1957, are on average back to the level of 5 per cent of the sales dollar.

Many companies seem in the mood to pass along the good times to the shareholders. General Motors' decision to pay out more than a billion in dividends this year, some $424 million of that a year end bonus is the biggest but not the only example. Many other companies are expected to extend seasons greetings in a like, if a bit more modest, manner.

For one thing, many corporations have ample cash on hand — GM has $2 billion in cash or marketable securities. They've been able to take care of more growth financing by themselves without going to the money markets. So yearend dividends can be paid without embarrassing the company treasurer's standing at the bank.

The outflow of dividends will help many small stockholders in planning their own yearend spending. Many look upon an added payment as an extra goodie to be spent at once. And retailers won't frown on that.

But much of corporate dividend payments will go to institutions of various sorts.

Among those rejoicing over the steady growth count is the federal tax collector. He gets around 52 per cent of the increase in corporate profits, and then he will be on hand when the individual stockholders figure up their total incomes for 1963.

will not make it."

Polk said previous holdups of Allied convoys may have been due to misunderstanding, but this time the Russians knew exactly what they were risking.

"We are ready for anything and are prepared to cope with it," he asserted.

The grave confrontation ended in the early morning hours after the British and French sent convoys onto the autobahn in a show of support for the U.S. convoy. The Americans had been blocked by armored vehicles since Monday at Marienborn, western end of the 110-mile highway to Berlin.

Western officials said the Russians dropped a demand for a head-count of the 44 U.S. soldiers in the convoy. This was disputed in a Soviet statement issued through ADN, the East German Communist news agency.

The American military personnel, the statement said, "conformed to the established control regulations at the Marienborn control and crossing point and after the processing based on them, the column continued its march."

The British and French convoys set out from Berlin at the opposite end of the autobahn from the blocked Americans and were cleared through by the Russians without incident.

The Soviet statement said the French and British convoys conformed to Soviet instructions immediately and were allowed to pass. This statement was described as a concoction by the official British spokesman in Berlin.

"None of the convoys submitted to any Soviet instruction on dismounting, standing up to be counted or lowering tail gates or anything of this kind," he said. "There was no compromise whatever."

In any case, the autobahn was open again and two more U.S. convoys, one eastbound, traveled the length of the highway this morning.

The blocked U.S. convoy of 12 vehicles reached West Berlin from Marienborn soon after dawn. It encountered no difficulty at the checkpoint of Babelsberg just outside Berlin, where the Russians held up an American convoy last month.

Erect and unsmiling in the lead jeep was the convoy's 25-year-old commander, Lt. John Lamb of Wewamitchka, Fla.

Dear Mr. Hardage:

In regard to your article "Fairview Tries Hard But Bobcats Post Win". I thank you. I was indeed pleased with my team's effort put forth during the entire game. I believe this was the proudest that I, my staff, or fans have ever been of a team after losing the game. It is most unusual to find a local paper of the winning team give their opponent such excellent recognition for the effort in which they showed in a game. Articles like this help coaches instill the teaching that "It's not whether you win or lose, but how you played the game."

We at Fairview wish all the success in the remaining season to a team that plays hard together with the best sportsmanship that the Cardinals have ever faced.

Thanks again,

Sunny skies were reported over most of Arkansas today, but fog shrouded the eastern delta areas.

A thunderstorm dropped hailstones up to three inches in diameter on Heber Springs and Greers Ferry Dam area Tuesday, but the Cleburne County Sheriff's Office said today damage was relatively light. Some windows were broken and there was some roof damage.

Sunny and mild weather was on tap for most of the day and with drier air moving in from the west, Arkansas should be without shower activity until Friday, the Weather Bureau said.

The forecast calls for fair this afternoon and tonight and partly cloudy Thursday, with cooler weather in the east and south portions tonight. Lows tonight will be 35 to 45 north and 42 to 52 south and highs Thursday will be 74 to 84.

The fog made vegetation in the delta area dripping wet and most areas were too damp for harvesting. The Weather Bureau said harvest will be possible by Thursday afternoon before shower conditions move into northeast Arkansas again by Friday.

Highs Tuesday were controlled by a cloud cover and ranged from the low 80s in the west to the 60s in the east. Overnight lows fell to the 40s in clear areas and 50s in the cloudy east. The outlook is for cooler

Case of the Woman With Termites

HALEAH, Fla. (AP) — Dade County physicians have reported the strange case of a 26-year-old Hialeah housewife who became infested with termites — wood-eating insects. Writing in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, doctors said the woman, whose name was withheld, was admitted to Hialeah Hospital complaining of severe cramps in the lower abdomen.

The morning after her admission, physicians discovered "numerous, small, whitish organisms." The University of Miami School of Medicine identified them as common termites.

The woman, her husband and their 9-year-old son had lived for six months in a wooden frame house estimated to be about 15 years old. She said white "winged insects" often swarmed in the living room.

Dr. Wilton B. Reynolds Jr. said the termites were finally passed from the patient's body. Her recovery was uneventful. The family moved from the house.

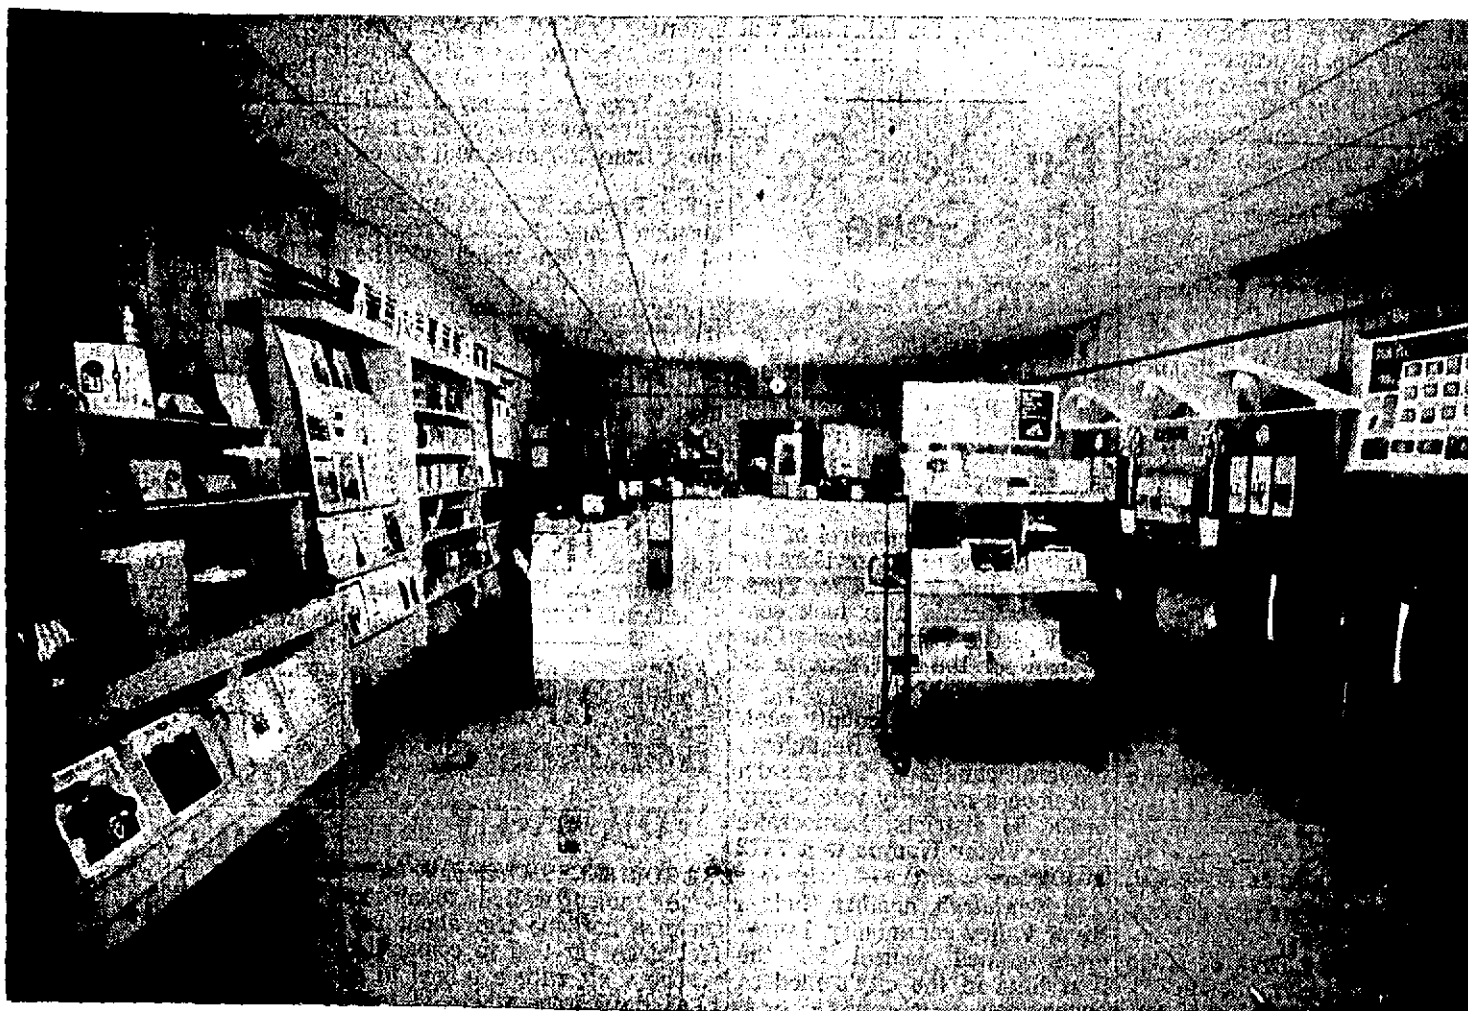

More major leaguers come from California than from any other state.

SHUFFLEBOARD STARTED IT ALL!

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Our second baby came the night my husband played in a shuffleboard tournament. I went to the hospital alone, he to the bar where the match was being held. After that friends nagged me to go with him on his shuffleboard nights. So I tagged along from bar to bar (the patrons of one bar play those of another) and perched on a stool while he struggled to win (he never did). One night a man asked me to dance and—

That was six years ago. I have lost my husband's trust, ruined his pride and made one big miserable mess out of my life. He questions every move, follows me wherever I go and keeps me awake nights by throwing this passing romance up in my face.

Once he struck me with his fists, another time held a gun to my head He threatens to take

Dear Helen: I was 19 and my wife 16 when we married. We are separated four years. I tried to talk her into a reconciliation but she wants to stay with her mother. She doesn't want to divorce. Says I would only be hurting our son, now four. She has a boy friend whom she loves but won't marry. I want to marry again yet wouldn't if it hurts our baby. My problem is how to get a divorce without hurting him. —Trapped Husband

Dear Trapped: Your wife is unreasonable and unrealistic. Your son is fatherless in effect as his mother is depriving him of the advantage of growing up with paternal authority and guidance. Her strategy is evidently to keep a rope around

Steel Keeping Eye on Signs of Slowdown

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) - The steel industry is riding high at the moment but keeping a wary eye on signs of a slowdown in construction and the odds on making recent steel price increases stick.

Steel output is back to the level of mid-July before the summer slump really started, largely as an aftermath to a strike-hedging inventory buildup earlier in the year.

Steel plant expansion and modernization plans indicate confidence is high in the industry and, even more, so is determination to cut costs from using obsolete equipment.

And profits of steel companies have bounced back nicely from the 1962 slump.

Most of this year's boosts in prices - covering some two-thirds of total shipments - have held stoutly enough so far. Steel mills report their customers have accepted them as inevitable in times of rising production and increased labor costs.

And the government hasn't reacted as it did a year ago when a steel price increase was quickly rescinded after administration protests. Summoning of steel company records by a grand jury recently is now generally accepted as an investigation of antitrust law compliance rather than as a protest against price boosts.

But the strength of the recent increases depends on continued high demand by steel users - auto makers, construction, consumer durable goods.

The auto makers are very busy, and the market there seems assured for the immediate future. Consumer durable goods also have been selling well, and consumers still seem in a buying mood.

Construction also has been pushing higher - until just recently. Some steel executives feel that the trend there may determine their own prospects.

Census Bureau's figures show construction spending down a little in October from September and August. But it is still running at an annual rate of around $6.5 billion.

Steelmen hope it stays that way. But such construction materials as concrete, glass, aluminum and plastics still hold a much larger share of the market steel once dominated than steel officials like.

And that puts a cautious damper on some of the enthusiasm that recent steel profit gains generated.

Military Liaison Chairman Named

WASHINGTON (AP) - Nuclear weapons expert William J. Howard of Livermore, Calif., was nominated today by President Kennedy to be chairman of the military liaison committee to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Howard is 41, a native of Nebraska, a graduate of New Mexico State University and a veteran of the Army.

He has been with the Sandia Corp. at Los Alamos, N.M., and in Livermore since leaving military service in 1946.

As chairman of the liaison committee, Howard will succeed Gerald Johnson, who has resigned.

Sees Possible Defeat for JFK

BOSTON (AP) - Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says President Kennedy may be defeated for re-election next year by Southern Democrats angry at administration civil rights policies.

Kennedy "will not carry a single southern state" in 1964, Wallace told a news conference Sunday. He arrived here on a four-day speaking trip and has a talk scheduled at Harvard University tonight.

"No president can be elected without the support of the South," Wallace said.

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

THE STORY: Dr. Brill Crayden, with whom Ann once thought she was in love, visits her at the small town hospital where she is convalescing from injuries received in a train wreck.

"You tell Bobby we'll both dive off Rocky Head next summer."

"Don't you think that's raising false hopes? Even if the operation is a success, the kid has months of convalescence ahead of him before he can even swim at the Y."

"Of course he has. But encouragement now can be awfully important, Brill."

Irritation deckle-edged amusement that Ann knew was forced. "You wouldn't be lecturing me, would you, Doctor?"

Ann said, "Of course not." She wished Brill wasn't like that. Bobby Hiram was his patient now, yes. But he had been hers and she still was interested in him, and if Brill would consult with Dr. Scotlin or someone more frequently he might save both himself and his patients some bad moments. Ann slammed shut the door to that pigeon-hole of her mind. "Let me know when it's over, Brill."

He nodded.

They both saw Dr. McDonnell come in, glance around the room that during visiting hours was crowded, grin a good evening all around.

He came over. "Good evening, Ann, Dr. Crayden." Practiced eyes ran over the various cords, weights and pulleys, apparently found all to their liking. "I thought when visiting hour is over, Dr. Crayden, you might like a look around our surgery and therapy wing and then Dave and I will be pleased to put you up for the night, if you're not already checked in at the Grand."

"I'm not."

"Good." And to Ann, "Dr. Crayden thinks you're coming along nicely, Ann. It's good to be agreed with."

Brill rose. "Dr. Lyle must be quite a surgeon," he said and bent to kiss her.

The days were flying, although Ann didn't see how they could. Frequent X-rays reported all was going well but despite their encouragement the hammock sling that supported her right leg, the Pierson attachment, each cord, pulley and suspended weight had become individual monsters vying with each other to torture her.

Dr. Lyle had been right. Being in traction certainly was no picnic. But if Peter McDonnell's theory about "seeing how it was at the other end of the scalpel" was correct, Ann should be a female Dr. Gregory Scotlin by the time this ordeal was ended.

After all, she knew she was improving. She read each bit of bone growth on those X-rays. Surely she could tolerate a few more weeks.

"Your supper, Doctor," Mrs. Shaw, the nurse's aide, interrupted her reverie.

She ate her broiled chop, baked potato and cottage cheese salad and spent a restive evening missing old Mrs. Enderle, who had gone home last week. There had been two patients in and out of the bed next to Ann's since then, but it was empty again now. It was a rare condition being enjoyed all over the hospital - there even was a private room empty "if you want it, Dr. Kenyon."

Mrs. Conover, who was supervisor of nurses, had come this morning to tell her.

"I like my sun-porch."

The supervisor of nurses looked relieved. "I'm glad. We do like to have a private room in reserve. But Dr. Crayden was insistent."

"I'm sorry," Ann said when she broke off. "I didn't know he had said anything about a private room."

Remembering, Ann closed her eyes. Brill, Brill, I wish you hadn't.

Ann snapped wide awake, as doctors and nurses do when some sound to which they are attuned reaches them. A siren? So far away that it was a mere wisp of sound, but - Yes, a siren, she identified the sound as she heard it again, a longer w

Texan Hogs to Also Observe Homecoming

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The Rice Owls are making elaborate plans for their annual Homecoming game with Arkansas this Saturday — but for three Texans on this 1963 Razorback team this is a once-in-a-career football homecoming. The trio of juniors from south Texas will all start for the Porkers in this critical SWC contest — and each has a well-established reputation.

The transplanted Texans include All-America nominee Ronnie Caviness at center-linebacker; the Porker's leading pass receiver for the past two years, end Jerry Lamb; and starting guard Jim Johnson. Caviness and Lamb played together at Houston's Smiley high school before coming to Arkansas; while Johnson is a native of nearby Port Arthur. This will be their only regular season appearance in Houston as Razorback football players.

I guess I've thought a little about this trip ever since I decided to come to Arkansas," said Caviness. "I knew that I would play only one college game in my hometown as a Razorback — and I sure hope it's a good one. Jerry and I have talked about this one several times," he admitted.

Caviness and Lamb each won acclaim as the Outstanding Sophomore Linemen of the SWC last year — and each is again enjoying a great season. The All-American credentials of Caviness match any in the country — he's the heart of the Razorback defense. Although he is considered to be an outstanding offensive performer — head coach Frank Broyles feels that he can win games for the Porkers as a line backer. As a result — he remains in the game on every defensive down. He's toughest against the top opponents — with 29 tackles recorded in the Texgame; 17 tackles and a key interception against TCU; 24 tackles against Missouri; and 22 tackles and a pass play broken up against Baylor.

Blevins captured three games from Guernsey Tuesday night. The Junior boys won 46 to 35 and the Senior Girls took a 56 to 45 victory.

The thriller of the night was a 73 - 70 victory by the Blevins Senior Boys. In this contest Guernsey lead until the final seconds when Blevins pulled it out.

Gop Men Say Goldwater Is Strongest

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — More than four-fifths of 1,403 Republican county chairmen and other leaders who participated in a nationwide Associated Press poll on presidential preferences for 1964 say Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is the party's "strongest candidate" against President Kennedy, as of today.

And almost two-thirds of those answering a questionnaire say they believe Goldwater will win the nomination.

Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 nominee, ran slightly ahead of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York as the potential GOP nominee. Moreover, a number of respondents expressed the belief that the party will turn to Nixon if the nominating convention falls into a deadlock.

On the question of the "strongest candidate," Rockefeller topped Nixon by a few votes.

Goldwater received 85.1 per cent of the votes in the poll as the "strongest candidate." As of now, however, only 64.2 per cent said they thought he could get the nomination.

Some predicted "Eastern big money interests" would try to block Goldwater's nomination. Others said that, although they personally approve of Goldwater's conservative views, the party would nominate someone else.

The AP poll began in early October in all states. Correspondents contacted 2,961 GOP county, state and city leaders and received 1,403 replies, slightly more than 47 per cent. They asked two questions and received these responses:

1. "Who is the strongest potential GOP candidate against President Kennedy on the basis of present conditions? Why?"

The result: Goldwater 1,194; Rockefeller 56 and Nixon 14.

Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania received some scattered votes. Among dark horses mentioned were Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of ex-President Eisenhower, and Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam. Lodge was the GOP vice presidential candidate in 1960. Others replied "undecided."

2. "Whom do you think the party will nominate in 1964? Why?"

The result: Goldwater 901; Nixon 72 and Rockefeller 61.

Again, Morton, Scranton and Romney received some votes, but a larger number said "too early to say," or predicted Nixon would be the nominee if Goldwater failed to win on the first or second ballot.

The Republican convention begins July 13 in San Francisco. The tentative apportionment of delegate votes is 1,308.

Bobcats Take on Gurdon Here Friday

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star SportsWriter

Friday night the Bobcats face the Gurdon Go-Devs in non-league play. Gurdon has one of the scrappiest Class A teams in the state, and they play their best against AA clubs.

Gurdon met defeat at the hands of Fairview, but not before giving the Cards the scare of their lives. Trailing 19-0 at the half, they came back in the closing minutes to within striking distance, but they couldn't quite overcome the 25-20 final score. One of their TD's came on a 98-yard run.

This seems to be one of the things in favor of the Go-Devs: their ability to come up with the big play. They scored on a 96-yard run against Ashdown.

Gurdon has good speed, no less than average weight, and a creditable passing attack.

Hope trainer George Jones informs that all Bobcats are in good physical shape, with the exception of quarterback Mac McLarty, who has been out part of this week with a case of blood poisoning. Mac will see action in all probability, nevertheless.

The Bobcats played Gurdon several years ago, and since the rivalry has been renewed this year, Gurdon shows absolutely no fear of the Cats. In fact, they have elaborate plans for Hope's downfall.

Fans are reminded that game time will be 7:30 this week, instead of the regular 8:00. Come out and Boost the Bobcats.

Although it may not be a matter of public record, Nhu is known to have vowed to turn the heavy guns of the palace guard against Saigon itself in event of a coup attempt. He is said to have vowed that Saigon would be razed before he would give in.

The strike against President Diem was the almost inevitable culmination of events of the past six months. Resentment against the government had swollen to a flood battering against a weakened dam.

Military men—concerned with the anti-Communist war they had on their hands—faced a growing morale problem in the ranks and among their officers. The military had taken about all it could.

The fact that U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge postponed his return to the United States hints that he may have had wind that something was up.

If the coup is successful, the result could help rather than hinder the war effort against the Viet Cong Communists. By some standards, the Diem government was beginning to hamper the war effort by its stubborn attitude toward any breath of opposition.

A successful coup would clear the atmosphere. It would be military rule, but military rule in this instance could be far more acceptable to many in South Viet Nam than a regime which pictured itself as a democratic, civilian government.

Getting to Think Lot of Mister Ed
By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Thank Heaven I don't have any children," said Leon Ames as he prepared to move in the same block with the loquacious horse, "Mister Ed."

Ames' lease reads for 13 weeks, but chances are he'll be hanging around much longer. As one of the best character-comedy actors around, he was an ideal choice to replace the late Larry Keating as Alan Young's neighbor on the popular CBS show.

"I wouldn't be sorry if I move in forever," said Ames. "The character I play is an interesting human being and I'm working with Alan, a man who knows his comedy. The pay is fine. He even scares me, he's so smart."

The gimmick is this: Ames is Alan's old Army colonel, now retired, and he comes to town with his wife looking for a place to settle. A stickler for fitness, the colonel decides that Ed is 40 pounds overweight. That's when the fun starts.

The colonel and his wife have no children, which pleases Ames greatly. Does this appear unseemly for a man with two grown children of his own?

Perhaps so, but he doesn't care. Leon has already starred in two television series — "Life With Father" and "Father of the Bride."

The former ran for 2½ years and found him working with a variety of red-haired youngsters as Father Day. The latter lasted a season, and he terms it "the most miserable experience of my career."

"People were beginning to think I couldn't play anything but fathers," said Ames, who parented Elizabeth Taylor, Margaret O'Brien, Jane Powell and others during his MGM days.

Coup Against Diem Was Well Planned

EDITOR'S NOTE: This analysis of the situation in Saigon is by an AP reporter who left Saigon a few days ago.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
TOKYO (AP) — The sudden assault against the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem has the look of a well-planned, well-organized operation supported by key figures of South Viet Nam's military.

At least nine top-ranking general officers seem to be involved in the planning and execution of a dramatic coup d'etat.

The results, one way or another, will have a heavy impact on the future of the little nation of 14½ million and on its war against the Viet Cong Communists.

The list of marine and army generals involved, if correct, makes it appear that the organizers of the attack were carefully chosen, each from his own area, as the key men in the military. Thus it seems apparent that most of the high military in Viet Nam decided to unite to rid themselves of the Diem government.

The planners of this coup, probably aided by officers of the air force, seemed to have decided to make Ngo Dinh Nhu, the president's brother and often sinister-appearing power behind the throne, their chief target.

Cosmonauts Are Married in Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova, 26, and Andrian Nikolayev, 34, were in a new kind of orbit today—wedded bliss.

They were married in a glittering wedding Sunday. Soviet chiefs used the occasion to drop hints the world's first cosmic couple may be going back into orbit around the earth.

The Kremlin chiefs left no doubt they want the blonde Valentina to have children. Among other reasons, they want to study any possible effects of space-traveling parents on children.

Premier Khrushchev introduced each of 21 toasts at the reception, attended by 360 guests including the Soviet Union's political, military, scientific, theatrical and literary great, and the other cosmonauts.

The wedding, at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages in downtown Moscow, was televised.

The reception given by the Kremlin started with a noon wedding breakfast and continued with champagne toasts long into the evening. The newlyweds left on a honeymoon before the last glasses were drained.

Defense Minister Rodio Malinovsky and Chief Air Marshal Konstantin Vershinin rushed up to the newlyweds as they entered the ballroom and presented them a girl doll with a pacifier in its mouth. They said it was a "symbolic present."

The beaming Khrushchev said: "I didn't bring any baby buggies or pacifiers. If you have a baby, the gifts won't fail to come."

He also boasted: "Our people is covering itself with glory. We shall give the capitalist world no peace, since it has to go."

Mrs. Khrushchev accompanied the couple to the party. The premier escorted the mothers of the bride and bridegroom to the head table.

The fathers of both Valentina and Nikolayev died during World War II.

Mrs. Yuri Gagarin, wife of the world's first cosmonaut, was the matron of honor. Valery Bykovsky, who orbited at the same time as Valentina last June, was best man.

Clue Sought to Coliseum Explosion

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A team of 30 state troopers began sifting debris, piece by piece, today for clues to the cause of an explosion at the Indiana Fairgrounds Coliseum.

After three days of probing the wreckage and listening to eye witness accounts, authorities have derived no cause for the explosion. However, some officials believe leaking gas may have produced the concrete shattering explosion that ripped a grandstand section shortly before the end of a Holiday on Ice show.

The death toll reached 68 with four deaths over the weekend.

Patients Find Title a Misnomer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patients looking for a rest at Resthaven Hospital have found the title a misnomer.

Each morning on the way to breakfast they find a work schedule posted.

Virtually everyone at the psychiatric hospital works.

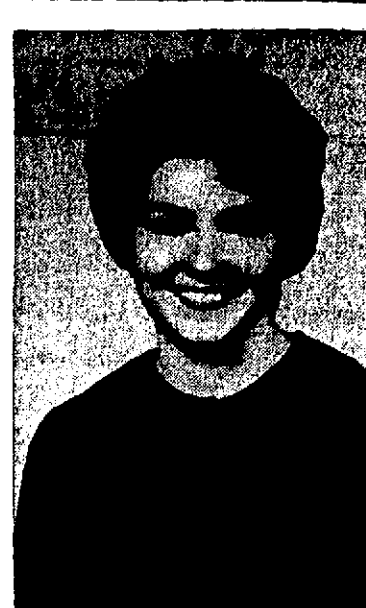

Dr. L. James Grod, medical director at Resthaven, says the work is not just a pastime to end boredom, but pure occupational therapy.

He said patients learn social skills and regain pride and a feeling of accomplishment because they know they are doing something useful.

The work therapy—when combined with other forms of psychiatric treatment—has proved so successful that the average patient is allowed to leave within six weeks to go back to work.

Earth Shifts, Rescue Work Is Delayed

By JOHN FIENN
Associated Press Staff Writer
BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Shifting earth delayed rescuers today in their attempt to reach 11 men trapped in a flooded iron mine since Oct. 21. A report to the surface said some in the group were getting edgy and requested tranquilizers.

The rescuers had hoped to reach the men by Wednesday but at noon engineers said they were running 12 hours behind schedule because of difficulties in their drilling operations for both a rescue shaft and a supply shaft.

Engineers working on the rescue shaft reported that they had to halt the lining of the shaft with cement because the earth had shifted at a point 125 feet down—61 feet from the men. They said they would have to resort to using the drill again but it had not gone into use by noon.

Shifting earth also troubled borers of a supply shaft through which surface crews plan to send tools and building materials to the men below. This shaft had gone down 138 feet when

Edward O. Carter, 15, said he was filling paper cups with soft drinks when he heard someone yell, "The gas is leaking. Everybody get out. Get out!"

The youth said he ran and was only three steps out the door when he heard a big boom.

Memorial services for the dead were presented in many Indianapolis churches Sunday. Many of the victims were buried today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's cotton crop for the 1963-64 season is expected by the Foreign Agricultural Service to total 48.6 million bales, or close to the record 48.8 million bales produced last season.

The indicated crop, however, is 11 per cent larger than the 1955-56 average.

The service said this season's big crop will add to a world surplus unless cotton consumption reverses a declining trend of the past three seasons by a substantial quantity.

The service said a phenomenal increase in production in Central and South America was continuing this season.

Production in the free world was put at 36.3 million bales and in Communist countries 12.3 million bales.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Estes Kefauver, widow of the late Democratic senator from Tennessee, will become a part-time consultant to the State Department around the first of the year, the Washington Post said today.

Mrs. Kefauver, who has had her own art studio and has taught art here for the past 10 years, will help choose paintings and other art objects to decorate American embassies, the Post said.

She will receive $50-a-day as a consultant.

"Some of us are getting edgy and restless," Bernhard Wolter, 28, reported over a telephone link. "Send down some tranquilizers."

Later Wolter reported back that only two of the men had taken the pills.
